

TAFEL FACTOR SALT LAKE PRIMARIES

Delegates to the Republican State Convention Are Overwhelmingly for Renomination of President.

WHITAKER'S FRIENDS MAKE BROAD CLAIMS
Supporters of the Present Judges, However, Contend That He Cannot Concentrate His Forces.

Lively times were experienced last night at the Republican primaries in this city. The attendance was unusually large, the interest intense, and withal there was a general outpouring of political spirit. While the interest ran high, however, there was an absence of "rough house" tactics, and the primaries were conducted in an orderly manner. There were two primaries held—one for the election of delegates to the judicial convention, which will meet in this city next Tuesday, and the other for the selection of delegates to the state convention, which will meet at Provo May 15, for the election of delegates to the national Republican convention at Chicago on June 18.

The principal contest last night was in the judicial primary, and it centered around the fact that City Judge J. J. Whitaker is making for a nomination for the district bench. In fact, this contest was so spirited that the election of delegates to the state convention was a secondary consideration. However, it is said by those who are well posted, that the Salt Lake delegation to the state convention is overwhelmingly for Taft.

Judge Whitaker and his supporters are claiming everything. In other words, they are claiming that Whitaker has more delegates pledged to him in Salt Lake City and county than any of the five judges who are candidates for renomination. Of the ninety-one delegates in the city, Whitaker and his supporters claim all but twenty-six, and of the forty-six in the county, more than two-thirds are claimed. Supporters of the present judges, of course, contend that Whitaker's claims are unfounded, and declare that all of the present judges will be renominated on the first ballot.

How Contest Is Viewed.

By those who may be said to be on the fence in the contest, to the extent that they are not partisans of either Whitaker or the field, which he is fighting, the claim is made that Whitaker has no show of nomination unless he can get a large vote in the judicial primary. That this will be done is being broadly hinted, and it is understood that Whitaker will endeavor to defeat either Judge Armstrong or Judge Looftbourrow, a decision to be reached before the meeting of the convention next Tuesday. Should Whitaker be able to concentrate his forces against either of the judges named, it is admitted that he has a good chance to win the nomination, although supporters of both Armstrong and Looftbourrow declare that it will be impossible for him to do this. As an indication of the scattered strength of Whitaker, it was announced last night that the delegates who are for him were divided as to the judge that they would vote against, and his opponents claim that this fact will bring about his downfall.

The sharpest contest last night was in the Eighth district, in the First ward. In this district the usual attendance at Republican primaries is from a dozen to fifteen. Last night eighty-six votes were cast, showing that there was extraordinary interest in the primary. The result of the balloting resulted in the selection of B. H. Clegg and N. G. Morgan as delegates to the state convention. These two received 43 votes against 42 for Orson H. Hewlett and Ed Strommen.

On the judicial delegation balloting, B. H. Clegg, Mrs. J. U. Eldredge, Jr., and William Pugh each received 41 votes, and Peter Sandberg got 39. Three votes, said to have been intended for Sandberg, were thrown out because of misspelling, making the intention of the voters obscure, it was said.

Delegation Is Divided.

When the result was announced, Clegg withdrew in favor of Mrs. Eldredge, and therefore Mrs. Eldredge and Pugh will constitute the judicial delegation from the Eighth.

It is understood that Pugh is for the renomination of Judge F. C. Looftbourrow and Mrs. Eldredge is opposed to Judge Looftbourrow. Clegg said last night that he had been asked by anti-Looftbourrow workers to go on the ticket, but he said, he had requested that his name be not used. He had no hostility towards Judge Looftbourrow, he said, nor against other judges, and he was unalterably opposed, he said, to being placed in the attitude of being antagonistic towards Judge Looftbourrow or any other judge. In spite of his request that his name be left off the judicial ticket, he said, it had been placed thereon.

Tilt in Forty-fifth.

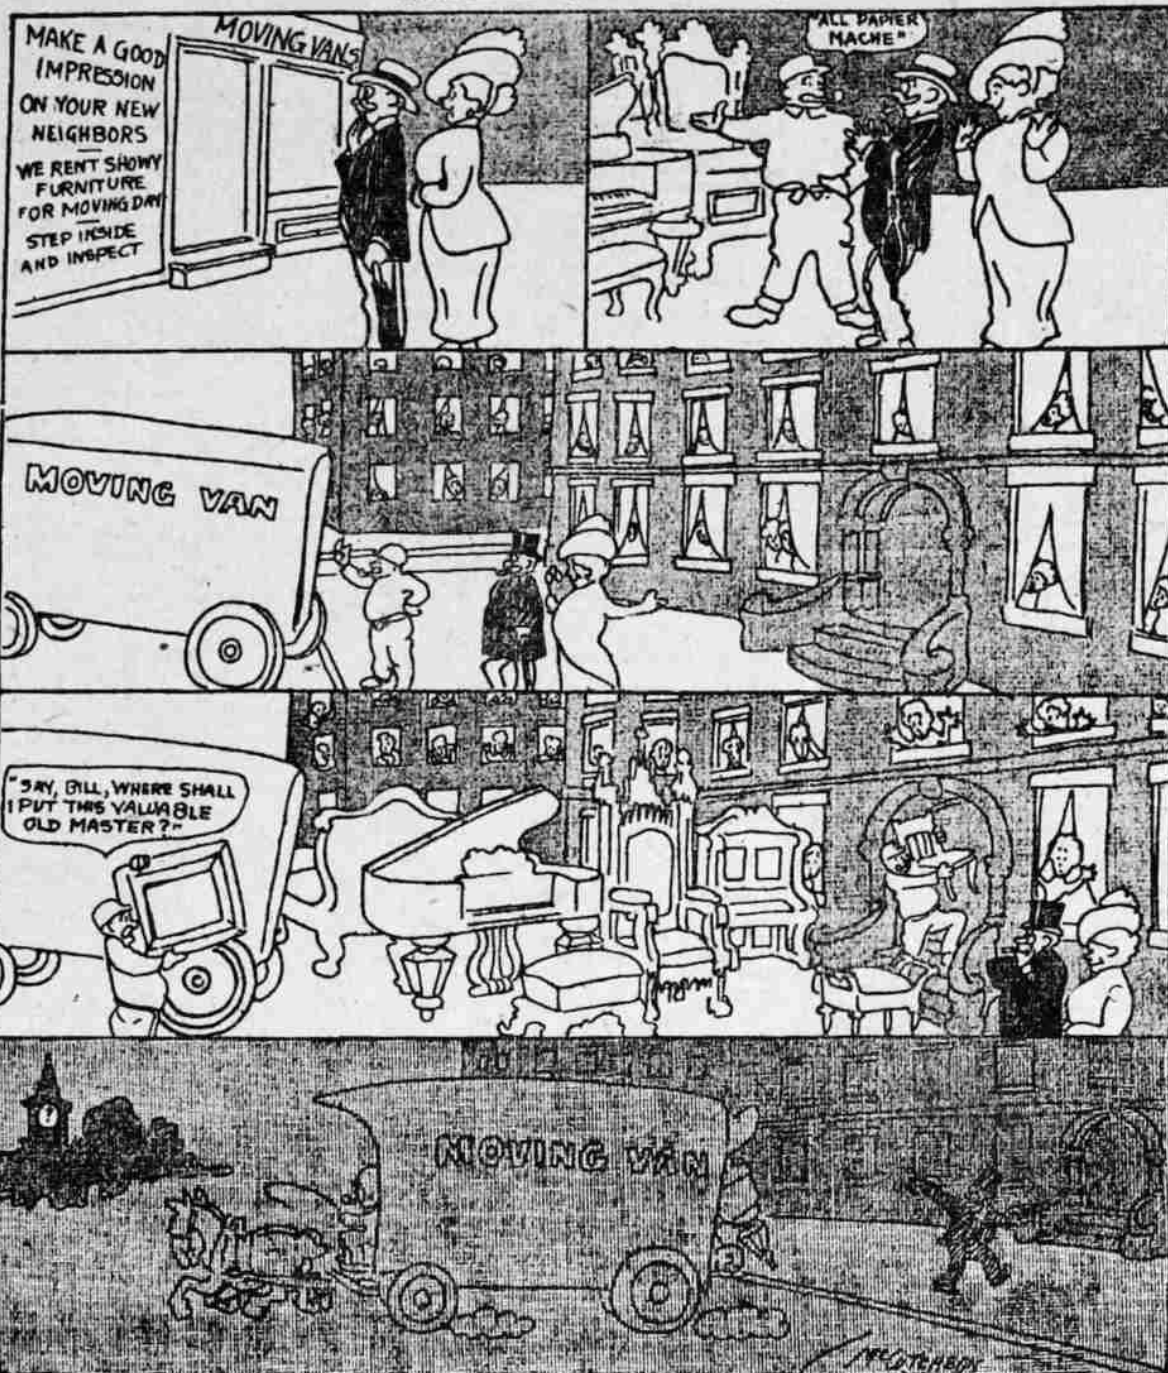

There also was a lively contest in the Forty-fifth district. The candidates for election as delegates to the judicial convention were A. Higham, E. E. Brown and Mrs. C. P. Eldredge. Higham won out easily, but at 9 o'clock, the time for the polls to close, Brown and Mrs. Eldredge were tied with 12 votes each. In this predicament, it is alleged that the Brown supporters hurried out and brought in another voter, who cast his ballot for Brown, thereby electing him. Friends of Mrs. Eldredge contended that this was irregular, but the chairman ruled against them. It is said that there will be a contest at the convention.

Fred W. Price, who desires to go to the national convention as a delegate, was one of the happiest men in town over the result of the election of delegates to the state convention. His friends now feel confident that the strength which he will draw from the county will land him the coveted honor. Twenty districts, it is claimed, are virtually solid for Mr. Price, while others, which were not instructed in any way, will lend him a helping hand.

RUNAWAY YOUNGSTERS FOUND AT FARMINGTON

Angered by a reprimand from their mother, Roy Payton, aged 15 years, and his sister, Ebel, aged 13 years, children of R. E. Payton, 124 North Second West street, ran away from home yesterday morning and were found by their custody last night by Sheriff Fred Harris of Davis county at Farmington.

The children walked the sixteen miles to Farmington, arriving there after dark. Worned and hungry, they wandered aimlessly about the little town until their apparent plight attracted the attention of the townspeople, who notified the sheriff. Under the kindly treatment of that officer, the children were induced to tell their story, though at first they refused to give their names or tell where they lived.

The Salt Lake police were notified and Patrolman H. C. Husbands was dispatched to the Payton home to investigate. He learned that the youngsters had left home early in the morning in a fit of temper because their mother had punished them. Mr. Payton went to Farmington last night and will bring the children back to Salt Lake today.

FILES COMPLAINT ON NEW TELEPHONE RATE

Dr. J. W. Ewin Says Company's Excuse "Is Very Lame One."

Another complaint regarding alleged raise in telephone rates reached the city commission and was referred to the commissioner of finance and public affairs. Dr. J. W. Ewin takes exception to the recent statement made by A. G. Mackenzie of the Mountain States Telephone & Telegraph company that no rate in rates has been recently made. His letter is as follows:

To the Honorable Mayor and Board of City Commissioners of Salt Lake City:

I wish to call your attention to the increase in telephone rates by the company.

Their excuse or explanation is a very lame one, that they are only eliminating an obsolete rate. This is the fourth time my rate has been boosted in the last ten years on that same excuse. I took the present service at their request two years ago. If they can eliminate any service and put in other rates at the pleasure, what is to hinder them from boosting every other rate they have in force simply by changing the kind of service?

A circular asking me to buy stocks and the statement shows a large increase in the net revenue. The sheet enclosed will show they have not lost anything in the last seven months by the old rate.

Some people are certainly in need of some means of preventing a raise when the rates are already adequate to return a fair dividend on the investment. Yours respectfully,

DR. J. W. EWIN.

The sheet referred to as containing a solicitation for the purchase of stock in the company recently issued by a Denver bond firm.

OTTO HAUBERBACH IS SALT LAKE VISITOR

Otto Hauberbach, who has achieved national fame as author of several musical comedies and songs, returned to Salt Lake yesterday, after a visit of two weeks in California. While away Mr. Hauberbach attended the musical comedy at Stockton and Bakersfield. At the latter place he inspected some oil properties in which he is interested. He reports them to be in a satisfactory condition, as are the majority of the oil producers in that locality.

Mr. Hauberbach has been in the west for about two months, and today he will leave for New York, where he will again engage himself actively in writing three more musical comedies that are now awaiting his attention.

WATER CONTRACT FOR THE CITY IS SIGNED

The irrigation company receives six second-feet of water for the use of its ditch, the city receiving the remainder of the one-fifth of the total volume of water in the canal. This water will be used for trading purposes, being exchanged for canyon water with farmers who own water rights in the mountain streams.

FORMER SALT LAKER PROBABLY PERISHED

W. H. Hyter Thought to Have Been Victim of the Titanic Disaster.

That W. H. Hyter, a former Salt Laker, perished when the Titanic sank while on his way to this city to visit his mother, Mrs. Lee Chamberlain, 409 South Fourth East street, is the belief of Mrs. Chamberlain. She bases her fears on the fact that one of the bodies recovered from the sea by the steamer Mackay-Bennett is reported as that of A. H. Hyter, and on her own knowledge that her son had intended to return to America recently.

Mr. Hyter left Salt Lake ten years ago and has wandered over the face of the earth since then. Mrs. Chamberlain received word several months ago that he would leave Brazil as soon as he could arrange his affairs and would return to America after a trip to England.

Hyter went to South America in the employ of A. W. McCune of this city. After five years in Peru, he joined a corps of engineers employed on the Panama canal operations. From Panama he went to the East Indies, and from there to Brazil. So far as Mrs. Chamberlain has been able to learn, her son left Brazil soon after the first of the year, bound, presumably, for England. She has forwarded a complete description of her son to the White Star line offices in New York with instructions to send the body to Salt Lake in case it tallies with the description.

GET LOW RATES FOR IRRIGATION CONGRESS

Board of Control Receives Assurances That Railroads Will Grant Requests.

George A. Snow, chairman of the local board of control of the National Irrigation congress, and Joseph E. Caine, acting for the Commercial club, have been active in an effort to get for the great convention the most favorable railroad rates possible.

Several of the passenger associations that have been addressed upon this matter have been heard from, and replies from the remainder of them are expected daily. Communications thus far received lead to an expectation that the most favorable rates will be accorded from all points in the United States to delegates who shall attend the irrigation congress here in October, facilitating a large attendance.

Mr. Snow has also sent out to men prominently connected with the congress a large number of copies of The Tribune and other newspapers containing reports of the meeting of Governor William Spry with the several boards of county commissioners. At this meeting, it will be recalled, the county commissioners pledged financial support for the congress.

Many letters have been received by Chairman Snow from those men to whom the newspapers were sent. They universally commend the enterprise of Utah citizens generally in having so readily given their countenance and material support to the proposition. They say that such action was what they had confidently expected from this state, and predict for the congress one of the most interesting and otherwise successful sessions yet held.

MURDER CASE GOES TO JURY THIS MORNING

Arguments in the trial of Frank Malizia were concluded late yesterday afternoon and the case will go to the jury early today. When court convenes this morning Judge F. C. Looftbourrow will deliver his charge to the jury, after which the case will be in the hands of his twelve peers.

Malizia shot and fatally wounded the strike of the Harriman railroad shopmen. The defendant was a "strike-breaker," and Hayden one of the strikers.

During the noon hour of the Commercial club yesterday the Sons of Jove were entertained at a luncheon and address by a pleasing and instructive address by the Rev. F. A. Simpkins. The organization present The subject upon which Mr. Simpkins spoke was "The Gods of Business."

SCHOOL CHILDREN HAVE BOOST SPIRIT

Exercises Held in Various Buildings in Which "Utah" Is Subject.

"Utah day" was observed in the city schools yesterday with special exercises at all the school buildings. Addresses were made to the children by prominent citizens from many walks of life, educators and other professional men and business men addressing the assembled classes.

In addition, the language work in all schools for several days past has been devoted to the "Utah day" idea, the pupils writing hundreds of letters which will be mailed to pupils of other schools in many states and all of which "boost" for Utah. Attention is called in these letters to the resources of Utah, in minerals, agriculture and manufacturing possibilities, while some attention is given the history of the commonwealth. In addition, the school children mailed some thousands of post cards, calling attention to the attractiveness of the state.

This novel plan of publicity has been followed for some time in the city schools and replies from many distant points are already being received.
